Nominees for Executive

Lynn Allen

Following our move to Guelph in 2016, I volunteered as a sorter and table monitor at the 2018 Guelph book sale. In 2019, I joined Carole Stewart and Carol Hermann on the Sale Days team, and in 2022 and 2023, I was Sale Days Coordinator. I am also a member of the Governance Committee of FGPL. By profession, I was a clinical biochemist – I worked at Toronto General Hospital for many years, and later as a consultant in quality management systems, as laboratory director at the Orangeville hospital, and as executive editor of a laboratory medicine journal. I also served in many roles in my professional society, including as President. My interests in hiking and nature have led to my involvement in outdoor and conservancy organizations. As a member of the Bruce Trail Conservancy, I served on its Board and as President, and on many of its committees. I have experience in organization and management, writing and editing, and planning and governance, and familiarity with the Ontario Not-for-Profit Corporations Act.

Joanne Grodzinski

Joanne Grodzinski began her career as an educator, having taught both children and adults, after graduating from the University of Toronto. She has authored books on elementary school mathematics; and, is the co-creator and producer of the award-winning audiobook "Maestro Orpheus and the World Clock".

For 17 years (1984-2001) she owned and managed the Carden Street Music Shop in Downtown Guelph, which specialized in classical and jazz recordings and books. Since then, she has held the positions of Executive Director of the Guelph Youth Music Centre, General Manager of the Elora Festival and Singers, and Director of Operations of the Guelph Wish Fund for Children.

Over the years, Joanne has volunteered with many local organizations, including the Guelph Spring Festival, the Elora Centre for the Arts, and Third Age Learning – Guelph. Besides the pride and pleasure of her family, she cherishes being part of a long-running book club since 2002. She currently lives in Elora, Ontario with her husband.

Lorna Rourke

Lorna Rourke is Librarian Emerita at St. Jerome's University in the University of Waterloo. Prior to that, she was a Librarian at the University of Guelph. She has taught in the Master of Library Science program at Western University and in the Library Technician program at Mohawk College. She is the 2009 recipient of the Ontario College and University Library Association Lifetime Achievement Award and the 2004 recipient of the University of Guelph Academic Librarianship Award. She has written many articles and book chapters on topics such as mental health in universities; information and misinformation; and virtual reference service in libraries.

Lorna served on the Guelph Public Library Board from 1995 to 2001, including a term as Vice-Chair.
